Power Support introduces iPod nano Splash Case

Posted by Dennis Sellers Jul 25, 2006 at 12:46pm

Power Support has introduced the Splash Case, a US$34.95 protective shield of water-resistant silicone designed to guard the iPod nano from water and sand.

The case completely encloses the nano. The medical-grade silicone provides screen visibility and access to all controls without removing the case. The Splash Case sports cutouts on the side to gather extra-long cords and a specially designed headphone port that prevents sand and moisture from penetrating the device.
